About NCPIE

NCPIE MISSION: To promote the wise use of medicines through trusted communication for better health.

Founded in 1982, the National Council on Patient Information and Education (NCPIE), is a non-profit multi-stakeholder coalition working to stimulate and improve communication of information on the appropriate use of medicines to consumers and health care professionals. Harnessing the expertise and reach of our members, NCPIE develops and provides valuable education programs and community resources for consumers and healthcare professionals, serving as a trusted source of information on issues such as healthcare provider-patient communication, medication adherence, medication risk and error reduction, and prescription drug abuse prevention.

NCPIE addresses key health issues through research, referenced research reports, special issue forums, webinars and a repository of educational campaigns. Our content always provides actionable health tips and specific questions to address with healthcare providers.

NCPIE's flagship educational campaigns include Talk Before You Take, Talk About Your Medicines Month, MUST for Seniors, SCOUTStrong BeMedWise Award, Recovery Opens Doors and more.

Membership in the NCPIE coalition is open to:

- Consumer organizations, patient advocacy groups, and voluntary health agencies;
- Organizations representing healthcare professionals and health educators;
- Schools of pharmacy, medicine, nursing and allied health professions;
- Local, state, and federal government agencies;
- Health-related trade associations;
- National and international for-profit companies including pharmaceutical manufacturers, patient information/database companies, managed care organizations, and communication/public relations firms;
- Entrepreneur/business start-ups operational \leq 3 years.
